

Webinar: Latest Trends on “Business and Human Rights” in India ~ Impacts of Covid-19 on business in India

Japan and India share economic and cultural connections for a very long time. Japanese have huge investments in India especially in the automotive, technology and infrastructure sector, which is expected to grow in the coming decade. India remains not only a valuable sourcing country but also an important market for Japanese products and services.

Covid-19 pandemic has severely impacted businesses all across the world. Due to various reasons, there has been massive economic and social impacts in countries like India, which has created new opportunity and challenges for Japanese businesses. India is now slowly opening up for businesses, however, faces many hurdles to get back on track on its economic growth.

Through this webinar we are providing an update of the situation on the ground in India. This session is expected to help Japanese companies to hear from our India network and understand realities of working and operating in India during Covid-19 pandemic. We will also provide an opportunity to answers your questions.

This webinar (on Zoom) is focused on Japanese businesses operating or sourcing from India.

Date: 30th September 2020

Time: 13.00pm to 14.00pm JST

Organizer and coordinator: CRT Japan

Presenter: Hiroshi Ishida (based in Tokyo, Japan) and Rishi Sher Singh (based in Bangalore, India)

Language: English. Japanese translation will be available.

Profile: Rishi Sher Singh

Rishi is Supply chain sustainability professional with specialisation in Business and Human Rights. He has previously worked for Japanese automotive companies and now based in Bangalore, India. Rishi is closely observing the situation on the ground and in close contact with local stakeholders. Last year, Rishi participated in the CRT-JP conference in Tokyo and spoke about Human Rights Due Diligence.